

Read the beginning of the story. It is called Sam's interesting journey. Write what happens next. Write (60-80) words.

Sam's interesting journey

Last week, Sam was on the bus going to school. Suddenly, the bus stopped in the middle of the road.

Model 1:

Traffic piled up, and the bus driver looked worried. Sam noticed a police officer waving cars to turn around. There had been an accident ahead, so the driver chose another route. The road was narrow and bumpy, but Sam enjoyed seeing new places he had never passed on his way to school.

Model 2:

The bus had stopped because of a flat tire. The driver called for help while the students whispered and laughed quietly. Sam opened his notebook and drew the street outside. Although they were late for school, he didn't mind. It felt like a small adventure before the real day began.

Model 3:

"Everyone, stay seated!" the driver shouted. Sam peeked through the window and gasped. "We have a flat tire," the driver sighed. Some children groaned, but Sam said, "At least we don't have to start math yet!" The driver laughed. When the mechanic arrived, the class cheered, ready to continue the ride.

Model 4:

"What happened?" Sam asked.

"A cat crossed in front of us," the driver replied, smiling. Everyone looked out the window and saw the tiny cat run safely to the sidewalk.

Sam sighed in relief and said, "That was one brave cat!"

His friend Noah laughed and whispered, "Maybe it was late for school too!"

The whole bus chuckled as the driver started the engine again, and soon they were on their way, still smiling about the little cat's adventure.