

Worksheet

No. (1)

Name :

Subject:

Vocabulary unit one

Class:

Nine & Ten

Date:

Nouns and adjectives to show feelings

Noun (the feeling)	Adjective (describes a person)
happiness	happy
sadness	sad
anger	angry
fear	afraid / fearful
excitement	excited
boredom	bored
pride	proud
shame	ashamed
surprise	surprised
love	loving
hate	hateful
stress	stressed
peace	peaceful
confusion	confused
confidence	confident
disappointment	disappointed
kindness	kind
honesty	honest
bravery / courage	brave / courageous
patience	patient
intelligence	intelligent
generosity	generous

selfishness	selfish
laziness	lazy
creativity	creative
responsibility	responsible
politeness	polite
rudeness	rude
optimism	optimistic
pessimism	pessimistic
ambition	ambitious
friendliness	friendly

Exercises

Exercise 1 .Reading Passage

Last week, our school had a debate competition. Many students were excited to take part, but some were also a little afraid of speaking in front of the audience.

One of the speakers was Amal. She is a very confident and brave student. She spoke clearly and answered every question without fear. Her confidence impressed the teachers.

On the other hand, her friend Sam was very nervous before the competition. His hands were shaking because of his fear, but with the help of his kind classmates, he felt better. Their kindness gave him the strength to continue.

At the end of the competition, Amal won first prize. She was filled with happiness and pride. Sam did not win, but he learned that patience and courage are more important than always being first. Both Amal and Sam received loud applause from the audience, which made them feel loved and respected.

A) Comprehension Questions

1.Why were some students afraid during the competition?

2.What made Amal different from others?

3.How did Sam’s classmates help him?

4.What did Sam learn even though he did not win?

5.How did the audience show respect to Amal and Sam?

B) Vocabulary – Fill in the blanks with the correct noun or adjective:

1.Amal is very _____ (confidence).

2.Sam felt _____ (nervousness) before the competition.

3.The _____ (kind) of his friends helped him feel better.

4.Winning gave Amal a feeling of _____ (proud).

5.Sam showed great _____ (patient) during the competition.

Exercise 2.Choose the correct answer.

1.If a person always says “thank you” and “excuse me,” they are:

a) rude b) polite c) greedy

2.A person who never tells lies is:

a) honest b) selfish c) shy

3.When someone always wants more and never shares, they are:

a) generous b) greedy c) confident

4.If a student raises their hand and waits quietly, they are:

a) patient b) rude c) dishonest

Your English teachers: Nayfeh Abu Hanna & Lara Bajjali

Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.